

COUNCIL ADOPTS PLAN FOR RE-IMPROVEMENT OF SEVENTH

Curbs Will be Changed and Portion of the Paving Will be Re-Laid

BOROUGH TO BUY WATER HOSE

Contract to be Let at Next Meeting On October 26 if Bids Are in—Long Alley Grade Established by New Ordinance.

Seventh street will be re-improved a portion of the way from Lincoln avenue to Crest avenue. This was the decision of council at a called meeting held Wednesday evening. The lower curb of the street—termed technically the north curb—will be elevated and the south curb lowered, while a portion of the street paving will be taken up and re-laid higher to reduce the peculiar slope that tends to make the street difficult to travel.

The improvement will center around that part of Seventh street in the vicinity of Lookout avenue where the slope is the worst. Probably the improvement will extend for a distance of 250 or 300 feet. The street committee of council was given charge of the matter to have the work done.

Improvement matters in regard to the repairing of Eighth and Ninth streets as desired by teamsters were taken up and the street committee was given charge of the matter. It was suggested that burned cob be used in the improvement.

Borough Clerk Ira L. Nickeson was instructed to advertise for bids for 1,000 feet of water hose that the borough proposes to purchase. The bids are to be in the hands of council by October 26.

A grade ordinance establishing to Eleventh streets passed first the grade of Long alley from Ninth reading and objections will be in order, if there are any at the time of the next meeting on October 26.

PRIMARIES OF SEPTEMBER 21 COSTLY IN WASHINGTON COUNTY

Over $7,000 Total Expenditures—Most of Sum Goes To Pay Election Board Expenses

The primaries of September 21 cost Washington county over $7,000, or to be exact just $7,089.20. This sum has been paid out to date by the county for expenses incurred during the recent primaries. Although there may be yet a few outstanding expenses for which bills have not been presented the aggregate expense will not likely be more than $8,000.

The largest single item of expense was the wages of those serving on election boards, there being more than $5,000 being paid out to these men. Supplies, printing and advertising, expressage, special clerks, room rent hauling of election booths, and other incidental expenses brought up the total expenses to the amount given above.

SEVEN-YEAR OLD LAD IS DROWNED IN RIVER

West Brownsville Youth Climbs on Barge While Watchman is Absent and Topples Overboard—Playmate Tells Story

Edward Davis, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of West Brownsville was drowned in the Monongahela river about 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he fell from a coal barge while at play. The body was recovered by the boy's father, who was a member of the searching party about three-quarters of an hour after the fatal accident had occurred.

With a playmate, William Spence, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Spence, the little Davis boy crawled out on one of the barges near the workings of the Diamond Coal & Coke company shortly after 5 o'clock. During work hours and at night there are watchmen who patrol the river to see that no one goes out on the barges. It is believed that the watchmen were at some other point when the boys crept on the boats.

The Spence child said that Edward lost his balance and fell off the barge and that he disappeared at once. He never came to the surface. It is thought that the current carried him under the barge. The body was found in about 15 feet of water.

Daylight Saving in Canada.
Considerable attention is being given throughout Canada to a so-called daylight-saving scheme. The movement in Halifax is in accord with an effort all over the dominion to have the clock put back one hour on April 1 each year, continuing to some autumn month, in order to give more daylight for work and pleasure. Meetings are being held all over Canada with a view to bringing the matter to the attention of the federal parliament at its next session. The Halifax committee is composed of representatives of the city council, trades and labor council and wholesale and retail merchants.—Commerce Reports.

Widely Known Physician Succumbs Few Hours After Stroke Occurs

CAME FROM PERRYOPOLIS

Was One of First Physicians to Locate Here—Was Graduated From California Normal and From Jefferson Medical School in Seventies.

From apoplexy a stroke of which he suffered Wednesday morning, Dr. Noah Woodrow Patton, aged 62 years and one of the town's best-known physicians died the morning at 6:45 o'clock at his home at 417 Washington avenue. Dr. Patton was on his way to make a call at about 9:15 o'clock Wednesday morning when he was stricken. He was carried into a Third street home and later removed to his own home where after a few hours he lapsed into unconsciousness, remaining in that condition till death.

Dr. Patton was born in Richhill, Ferry township Fayette county. He worked in the cabinet shop of his father until he was 21 years old, then attended California Normal school for six terms. From this institution he was graduated in 1878. He began the study of medicine under Dr. J. H. Davidson at Perryopolis. Later he took a course in the Jefferson Medical college at Philadelphia, being graduated March 29, 1884. For many months he was associated with Dr. Davidson at Perryopolis, then established his practice alone in that town. In 1887 he went to Smithton to establish a practice, leaving that point in 1891 to take a post-graduate course at the polytechnic school in Philadelphia. In 1892 Dr. Patton came to Charleroi and associated with Dr. W. S. Dodd. He has been here ever since.

Dr. Patton was twice married. His first wife was Emma R. Wilson, daughter of Rev. Wilson, a Kansas minister. She died in 1879. In 1884 he married again to Anna Fred Elwell, daughter of J. S. Elwell, of Perryopolis. One son, William Patton by his first wife is living at Monessen. Mrs. Anna Elwell Patton, his widow, one son Edwin of Charleroi and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Miksch, of Charleroi and Mrs. Harry G. Parkinson of Hickory in the immediate family survive. In addition there are living, three brothers and three sisters, John S. Patton of Richhill farm, Fayette county, Dr. Robert G. Patton of Belle Vernon, Rev. J. G. Patton of Weatherford, Texas, Mrs. R. T. Hutchinson of Layton, Pa., Mrs. Sarah Ellen McClain of Belle Vernon and Mrs. M. P. Dodd of Naomi. Dr. Patton was a member at the time of death of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church, where he has held official positions.

DOES PEACE IMPEND?

That peace is not far off is forecast by the events of the past few weeks. The failure of the "big drive" in the near the importance of Russia, the Balkan situation, the admitted failure at the Dardanelles, all presage a relinquishment of the unequal struggle by the Allies. In the Near East lies the outcome. It was there that the struggle had its inception.
Constantinople is the key.

When the first Balkan war began, the first act in the final tragedy was staged. This, says the Uniontown Herald and the second struggle distributed the balance of power in Europe, which had maintained the peace so long because neither side saw advantage to be gained by fighting. Each had prepared deliberately for the outcome; each had spent lavishly in preparation for the coming storm. Germany, France and Russia had built up great military machines. England had constructed the monster navy which she fondly hoped would win the war from its very inception. The rejoicing over its ante-bellum mobilization and its perfect preparation for the fray shows this.

The "big drive" intended to throw the Germans back to their former to over-awe the Balkans, to bolster up Russia, to affect the Anglo-French loan in the United States has completely failed. The weather will soon prevent any resumption before spring.
In the meantime, Russia is more than likely to quit.

When the Austro-German drive through Serbia reaches Bulgaria the Allied forces at the Dardanelles will be in a perilous position. Withdrawal or destruction impends. The withdrawal may be cloaked under the plea of needing the troops in Serbia. But there are available millions in Britain and France for whom no room can be found on the western firing line. They will be taken away because they have failed in what military critics declare the most monstrous mistake of the war.

They have gained only four miles out of the 47 before them. They have lost 100,000 men and many fine battleships. Given Austro-German troops and abundances of munitions the Turks will rush them into the sea.

And this will settle it for Russia.
Her hopes and her participation have been based upon the promise of Constantinople. This city will soon be so amply defended that its capture will be absolutely impossible. The Balkan alignment shows that Russia will no longer be dominant in that section of Europe. She will be barred from warm water by Bulgaria and Turkey. Powerless to penetrate the Austro-German lines now "digging in" until the ground is solidified by frost, she faces further loss of territory when the offensive can be resumed this fall. Rent by civil dissension and faced by revolution, she will soon be compelled to bow to the inevitable and make the best terms possible with her conquerors.

And when Russia quits the other Allies must. With Germany in rail communication with Turkey, England will soon lose Egypt if she doesn't accept the facts of the war, now understandable. She may lose India as well by persisting. France is important to expel the invader. Italy has made no appreciable progress. It is a statement save where the Kaiser has forced the issue. It is only by quitting now that the Allies can reduce the losses of men, treasure, territory and indemnity to the minimum.

One of Charleroi's truly noble women died Wednesday, in the person of Mrs. D. N. Hall. Mrs. Hall was a woman who devoted her life to the service of her community. Her first interest centered in her home and to the careful rearing of her two children.
Still she found time for interesting work. In her own work and in temperance work, as well as in general work she was a leader. She performed her duty as she could and was loved. In her untimely demise her afflicted family and the community have suffered a distinct loss. Yet her sweet influence, the influence of a life well lived for others will live, tempering all sorrows.

Without any substantiating evidence North Charleroi man this week was arrested on the charge of theft of an automobile and burning of the same.
At his subsequent trial he was entirely exonerated. This is a case in point where over-zealous officers gained nothing and made a serious error. An arrest should never under any circumstances be made unless there is an excuse, for nothing is as easily undetermined as a good reputation and without such the innocent man is left off as the guilty man.

It is a good thing for mining communities like Ellsworth and Cokeburg to hold annual mine rescue demonstrations. Where demonstrations are held preparation is made for life saving.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A great man is the man who fixes his own automobile, says an exchange.
If you don't seem to realize at first glance that he is a great man he will tell you that he is before you have talked with him for three minutes.
But the great man who fixes his automobile is always fixing it. He starts in to fix it when there is really nothing the matter with it and he always begins fixing the wrong thing. After he fixes a thing that doesn't need fixing, that thing never works right until he sends his car to the factory to be overhauled. After he is so pleased with himself that he fixes one thing that doesn't need fixing keeps right on fixing until he has the whole internal economy of the chug char-lot out of place and his car makes a noise like a tin peddler's cart running away or a switch engine hauling a trail load of sheet iron garbage cans over a piece of bad track. The best way for a man to fix his own car is to leave it alone. Nine times out of ten it will regulate itself.

One day a well-to-do farmer in need of legal advice sought a struggling attorney with reference to a suit he desired to bring against a neighbor. The lawyer looked up the statutes and advised his client what course to pursue. As the latter rose to leave the office, he asked: "What's your fee?"

"Oh, say three dollars," carelessly responded the attorney.
Whereupon the client proffered a five-dollar bill. The lawyer seemed embarrassed. He carefully searched his pockets and the drawers of his desk without finding the necessary change. Finally he met the exigency by pocketing the bill and observing as he reached for a digest:
"It would seem, sir, that I shall have to give you two dollars' worth more of advice."

URGE CONSERVATION OF GAME

Wild Life of Country Declared to Be Disappearing Before 5,000,000 Hunters.

Artificial propagation as a means of guarding against the extinction of American game and the need of further protective legislation were discussed at the first national conference on American game breeding and preserving at the Waldorf-Astoria, the New York Times states. Many important facts and statistics were presented to show the importance of renewing the supply of birds and other forms of wild life that fall prey to 5,000,000 game hunters in this country.

In the last five years, it was stated, the conservation commissioners of New York distributed 75,000 eggs and 20,000 pheasants to raisers of game.
These were given free from the state farm at Shelburne, south of Utica.
More than 250,000 hunting licenses were issued in the state, netting an income of $250,000. These hunters killed about 15,000 deer, but according to H. T. Rogers, superintendent of the state farm, there are at present more than 50,000 deer in the state, the largest number on record.

It was also shown that 500,000 shotguns and rifles were sold and 1,000, 000,000 cartridges used in the country. This number is exclusive of the muzzle-loading guns, which, it is estimated, would add 250,000,000 charges. Throughout the United States 1,500,000 hunters' licenses were issued last year, while the department of agriculture estimates that 5,000,000 men shoot game. To accommodate this immense army of hunters farms are being established to replenish the stock of pheasants, partridges, ducks, deer and other native game.

evolution, says the Portland Oregonian. The pig has also been our evolutionary brother, but he has not enjoyed the same intimate affection as the horse and dog. When Darwin was visiting the cow regions of the Argentine he remarked some naked gauchos crossing a river on horseback, and reflected with his usual sagacity that the two races had evidently been adapted to each other by ages of si-multaneous variation. But now man parts company with his old companion and slave. The horse is at last gaining his freedom through the good offices of the gas engine, but if he loses his existence at the same time he may not value the favor very highly.

Altogether lovely as the horse is on the farm and the country road, he is a nuisance in town. He befouls the streets, attracts flies and disseminates disease. Now that he has become uneconomical in addition to his other disqualifications, sentence has been passed upon him and he must go. The dog ought to go to the country with him. It is a great pity that some genius does not invent a machine that will howl at night, snap at passers-by and dig up the neighbors' flower beds and thus take the place of the dog. If such a thing should ever happen our cities might become reasonably clean and fairly healthy places to live in.

Back to the Classics.
As a university president Doctor Butler objects to this practice of "turning academical teaching into an exercise in contemporary journalism." Too many American professors, he thinks, give way to this temptation, which is pressed on them by public appeals for their opinions on current topics. "If one be a profound student of Plato he is expected without warning to pass an illuminating critical judgment upon the latest outgiving of Mr. George Bernard Shaw. If he happens to be well versed in the economic thought of Germany and Austria he is called upon for an authoritative expression of opinion regarding the strike of coal miners in Colorado." Possibly there are some British as well as American professors who would gain in ultimate reputation by paying heed to Doctor Butler's warning.

FOR WORLD CONQUEST IN CHRIST'S NAME

Object of Laymen's Missionary Convention In Pittsburgh.

The ultimate object of the convention campaign of the Laymen's Missionary Movement which opens in Exposition hall, Pittsburgh Oct. 24-27, is the church wide enlistment of men for worldwide conquest in the name of Christ. The immediate urgent need for the campaign at this time is the failure of two of the three great Protestant powers of the day on whom the burden of missionary responsibilities has hitherto rested.

Of the entire income provided by Protestant Christendom to finance the world missions of the church about one half has hitherto been provided out of the United States, the bulk of this coming from Great Britain and a few millions from Germany. The first ricidal strife in which these two powers are at present engaged throws a larger share of responsibility upon the United States of America. To present this obligation and to enlist the abundantly competent manhood of the churches in this great and unprecedented world task will be the main object of this campaign.

In addition to this, hundreds of thousands of people, harried by war, sick of the sight of blood, discouraged at the prospect of unbearable burdens imposed by war taxes, will seek the only possible refuge, which will be in this country. The inflow of these multitudes, with their racial suspicions and antipathies, intensified by the hate engendered through the present war, will tremendously complicate the task of the churches in assimilating these mutually hostile elements.

The objectives of this campaign will be:

To consider new world conditions and America's enlarged responsibility.

To study the missionary progress of recent years.

To project plans looking toward the accomplishment of our whole missionary duty.

To emphasize the adequacy of the gospel to meet modern social conditions.

To increase the spiritual power and efficiency of the local church.

To secure the general use of the best methods of missionary education and finance.

To inspire laymen to take their part in the extension of the kingdom of Christ.

EASY WAYS TO AVOID WASTE

Many Methods by Which the "Left-Overs" May Be Converted into Appetizing Dishes.

Of course, in using "left-overs" something new must be added. Tough steak may be finely chopped, seasoned with salt, pepper and onions, and fried in little cakes.

A nice stew can be made of the pieces of cold beef. Cut them in small pieces and cover with water, boil till tender, add an onion, carrot, potatoes, a little turnip, a spoonful of rice, pepper and salt. Serve with slices of toasted bread.

Scraps of veal, mutton, lamb or lean pork alone or all together, make a fine meat pie, or, finely chopped up, may be heated in tomato sauce.

Remnants of fowl of any kind can be served with cream sauce; hashed with a dash of mustard and served on toast; used as sandwiches. The bones of fowl slowly simmered in water for a long time give the foundation for a rich soup.

Chop pieces of cold ham finely, season with onion and mustard and use for sandwiches, with scrambled eggs or in hash. Horseradish makes a good seasoning for this.

Cold potatoes may be fried, mashed, creamed and used in salads.

Other vegetables may be used in hash or stews, or as a vegetable salad.

Cold beans and corn warmed up in milk make a fine succotash.

Cold rice can be made into a pudding or used in muffins and griddle cakes.

Make hash and balls with left-over fish. Chop cold oysters finely and add to poultry dressing. Dry and pound all stale bread and use for rolling croquettes and fish in.

Fry cold oatmeal or wheat in butter and serve with cream and sugar.

"Waste not, want not," is the motto which should be hung in every kitchen; every kind of food left over can be utilized in some way.

MAXIMS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Don't forget to close the refrigerator door each time you use the box; the ice will last much longer.

If the aluminum cooking utensils turn black, try boiling tomato pairings in them and they will brighten.

It is best not to serve the same dish twice a week unless it be a vegetable, as everyone likes a variety.

The bone should be left in a roast; it will help to keep the juice and will add flavor and sweetness.

To clean finger marks on doors, rub with a piece of flannel dipped in kerosene oil. The marks will disappear like magic. Afterward wipe with a clean cloth wrung out of hot water to take away the smell, as it does not destroy the paint. Paraffin oil is also excellent for cleaning varnished hall doors.

Kumiss.

This dish is of great value in the sickroom, as it is one form in which milk seldom fails to be retained by the patient. Kumiss made at home in the following way is most satisfactory: Heat one quart of milk to 75 degrees Fahrenheit, add one and one-half tablespoonsful of sugar and one-fourth of a yeast cake broken in pieces and dissolved in one tablespoonful of lukewarm water. Fill sterilized bottles to within one and one-half inches of the top. Cork and shake. Place bottles, inverted, where they can remain at a temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit for ten hours; then place in icebox for forty-eight hours, shaking occasionally to prevent cream from clogging mouth of bottles.—Woman's Home Companion.

Southern Biscuits.
Sift together two cupfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Then rub in a tablespoonful of lard when the flour looks like meal, stir into it the white of one egg beaten to a stiff froth, and mix with a cupful of milk. Beat with a spoon, then turn out on a floured board and knead very lightly. Roll out about one-fourth of an inch thick, brush with melted butter and fold. Press together lightly, but do not roll again. Cut in small rounds and bake in a very quick oven.

Codfish and Cheese.

Soak a pound of codfish six hours in tepid water, then let it come to a boil. When cold, pick into flakes with a fork and season with pepper. Heat a cupful of milk to a boil, stir into it a teaspoonful of butter rolled in two of prepared flour. Mix with the picked fish and pour into a baking dish. Strew grated cheese thickly on top and bake in a quick oven to a delicate brown. It is yet nicer if you add a raw egg before cooking it. Something real new.

Strange Bundles.

Roll out plain paste in six-inch squares, rather thin. Cut frankfort sausages in thin slices, rejecting the skin, and lay the slices in two rows in the center of the piece of paste; double, pinch ends together and fold as you would do up a bundle, wetting the edges to make them stick; then set away on ice until ready to bake. Bake in hot oven 15 minutes and serve hot with French or German mustard.

Mince Lamb.

Mince the lamb not too fine, add salt, pepper, a drop or so of onion juice. Put on the spider with a teaspoonful of butter, teaspoonful flour, milk enough to moisten. Cook only a few minutes. Serve on slices of buttered toast.

FOR BALANCED RATION

WELL TO DECIDE ON AND PROVIDE WEEK'S SUPPLY.

By Arranging Menus a Few Days Ahead, Variety of Suitable Meals May Be Supplied With Little Trouble—Points to Consider.

Food is necessary to build tissue, replenish waste, create heat and energy and satisfy appetite. In order to be perfect food, it must contain sufficient protein or tissue-building elements to cause a continual and gradual growth, and to overcome fatigue; sufficient starch and sugar to give an abundance of energy and body heat; fat in sufficient quantity to replace loss in illness or great mental or muscular exertion, and ash or mineral salts for feeding bones and tissues.

The balanced ration may be obtained in several ways and without variety. For instance, we may eat meat, bread and butter and potatoes, but a continuation of this diet, while it may cost a great deal for meat and butter, would not give good results, as the diet would be too concentrated, and constipation and its attendant ills would follow. Or, one might eat entirely of vegetables, such as beans and potatoes, and the quantity necessary to supply the required amount of protein would give too much bulk and often tissue starvation will occur.

In providing food for a normal family the housekeeper will find it provident to decide upon and put in a week's supplies, thereby insuring a variety of well-balanced meals at less cost. There is no more extravagant habit than buying a meal at a time. The housekeeper will find that arranging her menus a few days ahead, until three meals a day are provided for, allowing some variation for vegetables, meats and desserts, and providing against the embarrassment of a quick meal, will give her a feeling of security never possible where only one meal is taken care of at a time.

We should decide on the menus after we have proportioned our income, prorating the percentage of food so that only one-fourth of the income is used for this purpose. The occupation of the different members of the family, climate, temperament, sex, individual health, all must be taken into consideration, and then such foods as we can afford with due regard given to their caloric value will be determined upon.

The mother will remember that whether the children acquire full size and strength depends more on their food than upon anything else. A child from three to five years old requires fourteen tenths as much food as a man at moderate work, from six to nine years one-half as much, while a boy fifteen years old requires as large a quantity of foods as his father engaged at moderate labor.

In a cold climate more is needed, and this fact is not due to the temperature, but to the greater activity of the people, and it will be noticed that fat forms a large proportion of the northern diet, as it is oxidized slowly in the body. A tall, thin person consumes more food than a short, stout person, for the reason that a large surface is exposed and is the cause of greater loss of heat.

Personal idiosyncrasies must be considered. It is a homely, but true, saying that "one man's meat is another man's poison."

Ham Supreme.

Soak the ham over night and thoroughly wash and scrape it. Slice one onion, one carrot and one turnip and put them in a kettle, add half a dozen cloves, eight peppercorns and one bay leaf; put in the ham, cover with cold water and let simmer four hours, then add one pint of cider or two tablespoonfuls of strong vinegar and cook until very tender. Take out the ham when partly cooled, remove the crumbs and brown sugar and brown in the oven. Boil the liquor until reduced to one pint, then strain, cool and remove the fat. Cook one tablespoonful of flour in one tablespoonful of butter, add the strained liquor, stir and cook until perfectly smooth and serve as a sauce for the meat.

Cucumber Jelly Salad.

Pare and grate four large cucumbers, add one and one-half cupfuls of boiling water, twelve peppercorns, one teaspoonful of chopped onion and scant one-half teaspoonful of salt; let simmer 20 minutes, add one-half box gelatin softened in one-half cup of cold water; stir until dissolved, then strain through a double thickness of cheesecloth. Line a mold with slices of fresh cucumber, fill with the jelly when it begins to thicken and let harden on ice. Unmold and serve on a bed of watercress.

Bright Shades.

For brightening a large living room with a dark wall covering one might select window shades with gorgeous rebirds perched on greenish brown branches or just large, conventionalized red or mulberry flowers, with ample foliage. For a brown room shades with long sprays of the rich golden glow as a decoration would be successful.

Washable Paper.

Washable paper, such as is used to paper the walls of bathrooms, is an excellent substitute for oilcloth for covering pantry or other shelves, and is much cheaper. It may be held in place by thumb tacks, or cut wide enough to come over the edge of the shelf and be pasted down.

Change Produced by War.

To an unprecedented extent, the purchasing power of the British Isles has passed into the hands of women because of the war. Wives of men who have enlisted are receiving all, or a great part, of their husbands' pay, as well as the allowances made in many cases by their employers. The latter amounts to about one-half of their regular pay. With these funds the women are better supplied with money, to spend in such manner as they see fit, than they ever have been before. One result, landlords say, is that they are receiving their rents more regularly. Another result, no doubt, is that the money is being spent in a different way than it was when the men chiefly or wholly directed its expenditure.
